Global Business is a half-credit (1/2) course. An introduction and examination of the global market, economy and international trade will provide an opportunity to study economic, cultural, and political factors and their effect on managerial practices, international law, and the impact on the domestic and global economy.

Every person has three roles in a global economy: consumer, worker, and citizen. International Business provides a foundation for becoming informed about the global business environment. Students gain an understanding and appreciation for a diverse society.

Textbook: International Business 2nd Edition, Dlabay & Scott Authors, South Western Publishing
